

Campbell James sharing his own story

This building is newly built for my sheep pen. I own three sheep. I started to do this to maintain my family, so that is how I am starting very small, later on I plan to build a chicken pen next to this one.

This is my son; he is trying to set up a small business. What we are planning to make available basic needs of the people, it has been a continues difficulties for the people of this village in getting their needs because of the distance. So we are building up this small business so it will help by providing the villagers with their daily needs. I will also benefit from here.

My motor bike is a very important asset for me and my family, mostly for my children who walk to school every day. Since we are living a good distance from the school and takes half an hour walking and the children normally walk through the bush to arrive to school, normally it is dangerous.

What really convince me is that we had some Jaguar around and it was very dangerous and I did not wanted to take the chance to send my children alone. I now can take my children to school.
